Tourism and the Architecture of Growth

Tourism is a major source of employment in India, generating jobs not only in hotels and travel services but also in transport, handicrafts, and related sectors. It supports livelihoods across regions, including less-developed areas. According to the India Tourism Data Compendium 2025, the sector accounts for 13.34% of total employment (5.82% direct) and contributes 5.22% to GDP (2.72% direct).

Recognising its importance, the Union Budget 2026–27 identifies tourism as a key growth sector and proposes measures such as skill development through a National Institute of Hospitality and training of tourist guides, development of heritage and experiential destinations, creation of digital tourism platforms, and improvements in infrastructure and connectivity. Overall, the focus is on job creation, better services, and sustainable growth.

Thematic and Destination-Led Tourism Development

The government has announced a new scheme to develop Buddhist tourism circuits in the North-Eastern states-Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Sikkim, Manipur, Mizoram, and Tripura. The aim is to develop these areas as important global destinations for Buddhist and spiritual tourism.

Key measures include preservation and development of temples and monasteries, setting up interpretation centres to improve visitor understanding, better road and transport connectivity, and creation of pilgrim facilities and heritage infrastructure. These steps are expected to attract both domestic and international tourists while supporting local livelihoods.

This initiative builds on earlier programmes like the Swadesh Darshan Scheme, which focused on developing theme-based tourist circuits with improved infrastructure and visitor amenities. It has now been upgraded to Swadesh Darshan 2.0, which emphasises sustainable tourism, conservation of cultural and natural heritage, and community participation. So far, 76 projects have been approved under the scheme, with most already completed, showing strong progress in improving tourism infrastructure across India.

Eco-Trails and Connectivity

The Budget emphasises nature-based and sustainable tourism, proposing the development of ecologically sustainable mountain and nature trails in Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Jammu & Kashmir, Araku Valley in the Eastern Ghats and Podhigai Malai in the Western Ghats. Initiatives such as turtle trails along key nesting sites in the coastal areas of Odisha, Karnataka and Kerala and bird-watching trails along the Pulicat Lake in Andhra Pradesh aim to leverage India's biodiversity and promote ecotourism.

In addition, expansion of rail and regional connectivity, including high-speed rail and improved access to remote areas, is expected to facilitate tourism mobility and enhance accessibility to emerging and established destinations. These measures are designed to integrate tourism planning with infrastructure development, providing visitors with seamless access while promoting local economic growth and sustainability.

Global Positioning: Big Cat Summit 2026

India will host the first-ever Global Big Cat Summit in 2026, bringing together leaders from 95 countries to discuss conservation, habitat protection, research, and sustainable wildlife tourism. This highlights India's growing role in global wildlife cooperation and ecotourism.

India is already leading efforts through the International Big Cat Alliance (IBCA), a global organisation for big cat conservation, with its headquarters in India and support from multiple countries. With five of the world's seven big cat species - tiger, lion, leopard, snow leopard, and cheetah - India has a strong natural advantage in this area.

Hosting the summit will boost India's global visibility as a wildlife tourism destination, attract more international visitors, and encourage improvements in infrastructure and visitor facilities around national parks. At the same time, it can create more jobs and income opportunities for local communities, while promoting tourism that respects and protects nature.

Institutional and Human Capital Reforms

The Budget proposes steps to improve skills and strengthen institutions in the tourism and hospitality sector. One major step is upgrading the National Council for Hotel Management and Catering Technology into a National Institute of Hospitality. This new institute will offer better quality education, courses that match industry needs, research opportunities, and international partnerships. It is also expected to act as a link between education, industry, and the government.

Another important initiative is a pilot programme to train 10,000 tourist guides across 20 major destinations. This programme will be run with an Indian Institute of Management and will follow a 12-week hybrid format, combining classroom learning, field training, and online modules. The aim is to improve the quality of guides, enhance tourist experiences, and create more employment opportunities.

These efforts will add to existing programmes by the Ministry of Tourism, such as Capacity Building for Service Providers (CBSP) and the Incredible India Tourist Facilitator (IITF), which focus on improving skills and professionalism in tourism services. Overall, these measures aim to build a skilled workforce and improve the quality of tourism services across the country.

Digital and Heritage Infrastructure

The Budget proposes new steps to use technology and improve heritage sites to support tourism. One key initiative is the creation of a National Destination Digital Knowledge Grid. This will be an online platform that collects and shares information about India's cultural, spiritual, and heritage sites. It will help researchers, historians, content creators, and tourists access reliable information. It will also support better planning, improve the visibility of destinations, and help in managing heritage sites more effectively.

The Budget also plans to develop 15 important archaeological sites-such as Lothal, Dholavira, Rakhigarhi, Samath, Hastinapur, and Leh Palace-into engaging tourist destinations. This will include building walkways, interpretation centres, visitor facilities, and improving conservation efforts so that tourists can have a more immersive experience.

These steps build on existing government schemes like Swadesh Darshan 2.0 and SASCI, which support tourism infrastructure and heritage development, as well as the PRASHAD scheme focused on pilgrimage sites. Overall, the aim is to preserve India's heritage while promoting sustainable tourism and involving local communities.

Medical Tourism and Wellness Integration

The Union Budget 2026–27 proposes a new scheme to help states set up five Regional Medical Hubs. The aim is to make India a leading destination for medical and wellness tourism. These hubs will bring together modern healthcare services, AYUSH-based treatments, and facilities to support medical tourists, such as diagnostic services, post-treatment care, and rehabilitation. Many of these will be developed through partnerships between the government and private sector, helping improve quality and accessibility. This effort builds on the government's broader focus on combining healthcare, wellness, and tourism. It also includes strengthening institutions like the WHO Global Traditional Medicine Centre in Jamnagar and improving local health and hospitality services. Overall, these steps aim to provide better services to international patients, improve their experience, and boost India's position in the global medical tourism market.

Regional Development Push: Purvodaya States

The Union Budget 2026-27 places special focus on the Purvodaya states-Bihar, Jharkhand, West Bengal, Odisha, and Andhra Pradesh to promote regional development through tourism. The plan is to develop one major tourism destination in each of these states. This will be supported by better infrastructure, including the East Coast Industrial Corridor with a key hub at Durgapur.

To improve travel, the Budget also proposes adding 4,000 electric buses. This will make transport cleaner, more efficient, and more accessible for tourists across these regions. The idea behind this focus is to use the region's rich culture, natural beauty, and heritage to drive tourism-led growth. By improving connectivity and public services, these states can attract more visitors and create jobs for local communities. Overall, this approach aims to make eastern India a more attractive destination for both domestic and international tourists.

Conclusion

The tourism initiatives in the Union Budget 2026-27 aim to boost economic growth, create jobs, and promote India's cultural heritage. The approach combines new schemes with existing programmes to improve infrastructure, protect heritage sites, build skills, and use digital tools. There is also a strong focus on developing different types of tourism, such as spiritual, eco, adventure, and medical tourism. Efforts like developing Buddhist circuits in the North-East, upgrading hospitality services, and improving heritage sites show a move towards more sustainable and experience-based tourism.

These initiatives work alongside existing schemes like Swadesh Darshan 2.0, PRASHAD Scheme, and capacity-building pro-grammes to ensure better coordination and use of resources. By connecting infrastructure, local communities, and cultural assets, the Budget creates a strong foundation for tourism growth. If implemented well, these measures can improve the travel experience, generate employment, and strengthen India's position as a leading global tourism destination.

India, South Korea Target $50B Trade by 2030

India and South Korea have agreed to boost bilateral trade to $50 billion by 2030, marking a significant step in strengthening economic ties. The announcement came after talks between Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi and visiting South Korean President Mr. Lee Jae Myung in New Delhi on April 20, 2026. The two countries signed four agreements covering sports, cultural industries, small and medium enterprises, and the creation of an Industrial Cooperation Committee. They also agreed to resume negotiations to upgrade their existing trade pact and launched a new India-Korea Digital Bridge initiative. Speaking after the meeting, PM Modi highlighted plans to expand collaboration in technology sectors such as artificial intelligence, semiconductors, and IT. He said the partnership is evolving into a "futuristic" one, spanning areas from technology to energy. South Korea also joined key international initiatives led by India, including the International Solar Alliance and the Indo-Pacific Oceans Initiative. Current trade between the two countries stands at $27 billion, with both sides expressing confidence in reaching the new target by the end of the decade.

Final-Year Students Now Eligible for PM Internship Scheme

The government has expanded eligibility under the Prime Minister Internship Scheme to include final-year graduate and post-graduate students, widening access to industry exposure. Students aged 18-25 in their final year can now apply for paid internships with top companies through the scheme's portal, subject to a No Objection Certificate from their institutions. The move is expected to give students earlier access to structured work experience, improving employability and strengthening industry-academia linkages.

Online Gaming Rules Take Effect from May 1

The Promotion and Regulation of Online Gaming Rules, 2026 has come into force from May 1, 2026, establishing a comprehensive regulatory framework for India's fast-growing online gaming sector. As stipulated in the rules, an Online Gaming Authority of India has been created that will serve as the central regulator. The six-member body will be chaired by the Additional Secretary of the Ministry of Electronics and IT, with members drawn from key ministries including Home Affairs, Information and Broadcasting, Youth Affairs and Sports, Financial Services, and Legal Affairs—ensuring coordinated oversight. The authority will be responsible for classifying and registering online games, determining whether a game qualifies as a real-money game, and addressing user grievances. It will also issue guidelines and codes of practice to enforce compliance across platforms. The rules introduce a transparent mechanism to distinguish between money games and permissible social or e-sports, reducing regulatory uncertainty for companies while tightening safeguards for users.

Shekha Jheel Added as Ramsar Site, India's Total Reaches 99

Uttar Pradesh's Shekha Jheel Bird Sanctuary has been added to the list of wetlands protected under the Ramsar Convention, taking the country's total to 99 and moving closer to the milestone of 100 sites. The addition strengthens India's growing network of internationally recognised wetlands, enhancing efforts to conserve biodiversity and critical ecosystems. The sanctuary is an important stopover along the Central Asian Flyway, supporting migratory species such as the Bar-headed Goose and Painted Stork. Expanding the Ramsar list is expected to improve water conservation, climate resilience, and local livelihoods, while reinforcing India's commitment to global environmental goals and wetland protection.

SAF-Blended Aviation Fuel Brought Under ATF Control Order

The Government of India has amended the ATF Control Order, 2001 to include aviation fuel blended with Sustainable Aviation Fuel (SAF), bringing it under existing regulatory norms. The move provides clarity for marketing and use of SAF-blended fuel, helping accelerate its adoption without requiring changes to aircraft or infrastructure, as SAF is fully compatible with conventional fuel. Recognised by the International Civil Aviation Organization as a cleaner alternative, SAF can significantly reduce greenhouse gas emissions. India has set blending targets of 1% by 2027, 2% by 2028, and 5% by 2030, and the amendment is expected to support these goals while boosting domestic production and aligning India with global clean aviation trends.

'Vishwa Sutra' Aims to Take Indian Handlooms Global

The Ministry of Textiles has launched 'Vishwa Sutra - Weaves of India for the World' to promote Indian handlooms in global fashion markets. The initiative was unveiled at the 61st Femina Miss India event in Bhubaneswar, Odisha. Developed by the Office of the Development Commissioner (Handlooms) in collaboration with the National Institute of Fashion Technology (NIFT), the project brings together 30 handloom weaves from across India, each representing a different state. These have been reimagined with design inspirations from 30 countries, blending traditional craftsmanship with contemporary global styles. The initiative aligns with the government's "Vocal for Local to Global" vision and the 5F (Farm, Fibre, Factory, Fashion, Foreign) framework, aiming to position Indian textiles for international markets. Meanwhile, Sadhvi Satish Sail of Goa won the title of Femina Miss India World 2026 at the 61st edition of the pageant, held on April 18, 2026, in Bhubaneswar, Odisha.

India Tightens Iran Travel Advisory

India has warned its citizens against travelling to Iran, with the Embassy of India in Tehran issuing a stronger "do not travel" advisory amid ongoing regional tensions. The latest advisory explicitly asks Indian nationals not to travel to Iran "whether by air or land," citing airspace restrictions and operational uncertainty affecting international flights. It also directs those currently in Iran to leave only through designated land border routes in coordination with the Embassy. This is a tightened version of earlier warnings. Previous advisories had urged Indians to stay indoors, avoid unnecessary movement, and coordinate travel plans with the Embassy.

UAE to Move Half of Government Services to AI

The United Arab Emirates plans to shift 50% of its government services to artificial intelligence within two years, signalling a major transformation in public administration. The initiative will deploy advanced "agentic AI" systems across departments to handle routine tasks, analyse data, and support decision-making, reducing reliance on manual processes. Authorities will evaluate federal entities on the speed and effectiveness of AI adoption, while government employees will undergo training to adapt to the shift. The move is expected to streamline bureaucracy, cut operational costs, and significantly improve service delivery speed. It builds on the UAE's long-standing digital governance push and aligns with broader ambitions to create a fully AI-driven government ecosystem in the coming years.

India Joins FIFA Women's Development Programme

India has been selected among 12 countries for the FIFA Women's Development Programme (Commercial Strategy 2026), a capacity-building initiative aimed at strengthening the commercial foundations of women's football. The programme, scheduled from May to October 2026, will provide tailored training to clubs and stakeholders on building sustainable revenue models, securing sponsorships, improving fan engagement, and professionalising operations. India's participation, facilitated by the All India Football Federation, is expected to significantly boost the domestic women's game. Clubs will gain the expertise needed to meet upcoming licensing requirements from the Asian Football Confederation, while also becoming more financially stable and competitive. The programme is likely to accelerate growth across the ecosystem—from grassroots leagues to top-tier clubs—by improving investment readiness and long-term sustainability, positioning India to better capitalise on rising interest in women's football.
